

I don't see the difference between cable/satellite television and radio. If it is done to satellite radio then it should be also done to the television industry, or if it's OK for Television it should be OK for radio. I enjoy my satellite radio and do not think my enjoyment should be interfered with. I respectfully urge the FCC to reject the NAB's petition 04-160 and support the rights of all satellite radio broadcasters to provide traffic and weather.

What the NAB doesn't understand is the fact that if satellite radio didn't offer traffic and weather I still would not listen to their commercial saturated programming. I would resort to listening to CD's as I did in the past.

The future is here and if they, the NAB, don't like it maybe they should join them, or even better, compete with them in their own market and offer better programming, alternative programming, or anything new and interesting.

They need to quit whinning and get off of their "lazy rear ends" and do something productive.

Thee FCC has much more important issues and concerns to attend to that we all know exist. The NAB needs to quit wasting tax-payers money!

Thank you
